Simon R. Gillespie Studio
Conservation and restoration of fine art

Situated in the heart of London's art world, Simon Gillespie specialises in the restoration of oil paintings on panel or canvas, Early English pictures, Old Masters and portraits.

For over 20 years this professional restorer has worked with individual clients, large institutions, auction houses, clubs, West End galleries, museums, English Heritage and the Palace of Westminster. The studio maintains the highest standards of contemporary ethical practices. Full condition reports and a photographic record of treatment are available and advice is also given on lighting, frame hanging, humidity control, insurance and valuations.
